WHERE / WHEN:

New York City Studio TBA

Sat., Dec. 5 - 10am to 5pm &

Sun., Dec. 6 - 9am to 4pm

This workshop takes you through the entire process of what it's like to audition and record a cartoon! Each student will have the opportunity to "audition" for up to 15 characters. Based on their "auditions" Bob will then cast and record an episode of the cartoon. Each student will receive an audio copy of the finished product.

This is a great opportunity to know what it's like to actually work as a voice-over artist in an animated film.

"Bob has unique ability to assess your approach to a character and bend and shape it so you walk out of the booth completely satisfied. If you give a great first take, he'll make you dig deeper into the role or completely turn you around to a different vibe. If you're holding back, he gets the most out of you. It's all done with encouragement and ease...."

"What a great set of sessions we had this weekend. I just got through playing the tracks for my husband and soundtrack producer, Mark, and he was impressed with your directing, my learning & the final project -- among other things...It was worth every bit of time & money spent, and much more!!"
